

THE 5-POINT SCALE

This is a level 5 voice. It is VERY LOUD. I should not use a 5 voice unless it is an emergency and someone needs help.

This is a level 4 voice. It is loud. I can use this voice outside or on the playground. I can use it to get someone's attention if they are outside.

This is a level 3 voice. It is not loud, but it is loud enough for someone to hear me when I am talking. I use this voice when I want to talk to someone. I use it to answer my teacher's questions in school. I use it in the classroom. My teacher likes my number 3 voice.

This is a level 2 voice. A number 2 voice is quiet. It is sometimes called a whisper. I can use a number 2 voice in the hallway or in the media center.

This is a level 1 voice. It means NO talking. My mouth is closed and no noise comes out. I use this voice when my teacher is talking in school. When my teacher or an adult in school tells me "number 1 voice" I should stop talking.

It is important to know which voice to use at school. My teacher can remind me which voice I should use by pointing to the number on the 5-point scale. This will help me remember what number my voice should be.
