

Assembly 3Rs Skit

Walking/standing – not yet in the assembly

K: Can you believe we have to go to another assembly?

N: No, they are so bogus.

K: There's always some dumb speaker that goes on and on and on.

N: Yeah, like remember that magician that one time, geez.

K: Yeah, like we wanted to see magic tricks. How lame can you get?

N: And then there's the teachers. They always get to sit on chairs and we have to sit on the floor.

K: Yeah, "criss-cross applesauce" like we're little kids or something.

N: Right, and then the teachers stare you down if you say one thing to someone next to you during the assembly.

K: Yeah, like they don't talk to each other when the speaker is up there. Once, my teacher even came over to me and tapped me on the shoulder and made me move. Geez.

Sit down as if in the assembly. Heather is the 'speaker' in front.

H: Hello Students! We've got some awards to give out this morning before we let our guest speakers take over.

K: Whispering loudly to Nicole – Oh brother, this is such a waste of time!

N: Whispering loudly to Kara – No, kidding and I never get any of these dumb awards anyway!

H: First, we want to recognize the students who have perfect attendance during the first trimester of this year. Please hold your applause until I've said all the names. In kindergarten there's Joseph, Madeline, Jamal, Tyree, Jody, and Kaitlyn.

K: Physically turn body away from Heather. Roll your eyes – Blah, blah, blah, blah, ..

H: In first grade, congratulations to Terry, Katie, Jarrisa, Alex, Mohamed and George. In second grade, we have Courtney, Hope and Robert.

N: Kneeling, gesturing to another student on the other side of Kara – Whatever!

H: Third grade seems to have had a lot of illness this fall as there are no students with perfect attendance in third grade – sorry to hear that.

K: Gesture as if to stick your finger down your throat and throw up.

H: Fourth grade perfect attendance goes to Melanie, Emily, Jack, Evan, Jasmine and Devin. Fifth grade has Bethany, David, Jackson, Hayley, and Frank.

N: . Roll your eyes – Blah, blah, blah, blah, ..

H: And last, but not least, sixth grade perfect attendance goes to Mitchell, Kayla, Riley, Latasha and Tyrese.

K: As if speaking to another student – Oh Kayla, you are soooo perfect aren't you?

N: Whatever. Roll your eyes.

H: OK, let's hear a big round of applause for these students with perfect attendance this trimester – claps

K: uninterested, unenthusiastic applause

N: uninterested, unenthusiastic applause

H: Now here's Mr. Skaja to introduce our special guest speakers.

K: Oh brother, how long do you think this is going to take?

N: Who knows? Do you have any gum?

K: No, Mr. Wolf took my gum this morning

N: Oops, speaking of Mr. Wolf, here he comes.

K: Great, now I suppose he'll make us sit somewhere else.

N: Yeah, like it's our fault or something. Roll your eyes.

K: Right, I just love assemblies. Roll your eyes.
